A genealogical profile of John Alden

Birth: John Alden was born in England around 1599.

Death: He died in Duxbury on September 12, 1687.

Ship: Mayflower, 1620

Life in England: John Alden was hired in Southampton, Hampshire to be the cooper (barrel-maker) aboard the Mayflower during her 1620 voyage. While many towns have been proposed as his place of origin, none have been proved.

Life in New England: John Alden lived in Plymouth until 1632, when he moved to Duxbury. He served the colony in many capacities, including Governor’s Assistant, Deputy Governor and treasurer. He actively participated in Plymouth’s trade on the Kennebec River in Maine, and in 1634 he and John Howland became involved in a dispute there which left two men dead. Alden was arrested in Boston while the controversy was investigated, and later released. John Alden received many land grants during his life but gave most of this land to his sons. By 1660, he was “low in his estate” and received “a small gratuity, the sum of ten pounds” from the Plymouth Court. His inventory totaled only £49 17s 6d. in movable goods.

Family: About 1623 John Alden married Priscilla Mullins, the only survivor of the Mullins family on the Mayflower, and had ten children. Priscilla died in Duxbury between 1651 and Alden’s death in 1687.

Children of John Alden and Priscilla Mullins:
